Course Description:

The need for civil disobedience preparedness has never been more critical. Civil disobedience can occur unexpectedly, and the consequences of being unprepared can be severe for both the public and law enforcement personnel.

This Civil Disobedience training provides law enforcement officers with instruction in protest types of assemblies and actions, legal considerations, responsibilities of mobile field teams, and crowd-control methods.

This course culminates with a series of hands-on activities that allow attendees to practice all the learned skills (baton-holding positions, mass-arrest procedures, and riot-control formations) in a realistic context.
