Course Description:

This class is intended as an annual refresher for law enforcement personnel who have already been certified through a class that meets the requirements of OSHA 1910.120 (Hazardous Waste Operations and Emergency Response). Clandestine laboratories produce evidence for production and trafficking crimes, but they also pose a significant danger to the officers investigating them. This is an 8-hour course that meets OSHA requirements for recertification of investigators to enter and dismantle clandestine laboratories. This course reviews the dangerous nuances of clandestine laboratories so that they can be investigated safely and thoroughly.
