Course Description:

Colin Powell served four U.S. Presidents, was Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and served in many prestigious positions in the Army and government service. Powell's astute honest introspection of self & others are keys to his insights & wisdom. His clear thinking & pathing for adept decision-making was honed over a lifetime are profoundly akin to the daily challenges of Law Enforcement leaders. Powell's thirteen leadership rules are principles that each of us can apply to professional and personal work-life situations, making a positive difference in the lives of personnel and the public. His insights to human nature are discerningly profound. Powell's tenacious core of accountability and intelligence made him a brilliant but humble public servant. He knew the lay of the land when dealing with narcissism and deceit. While he served many powerful men, he never gave away his ethical conscience.
