

Shatter the Silence and Stop the Violence: Jefferson College and COMTREA Take Back the Night April 25

Jefferson College and COMTREA Health Center will again co-host “Take Back the Night” on Thursday, April 25, beginning at 4:30 p.m. at the Field House on the Hillsboro campus in conjunction with April’s designation as Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM). This is the eighth year for the community awareness event.

Take Back the Night is an annual event that strives to create safe communities and respectful relationships through awareness. It seeks to end all forms of sexual and domestic abuse. The event recognizes survivors of violence and abuse, along with their advocates, and anyone who wishes to shatter the silence and stop the violence.

According to the national Take Back the Night website, 1 in 3 women and 1 in 6 men worldwide experience some form of sexual violence. Less than 50 percent of victims report these crimes.

Open to everyone in the region, the educational and inspirational evening will include several activities and guest speakers, highlighted by a walk and rally to recognize and support survivors of sexual violence and abuse. Free food and refreshments will be provided as well as free USB bracelets loaded with community resources.

Jefferson College Teacher Education Student and Alum Receive Statewide Recognition

Jefferson College student Katie Glassey of Ste. Genevieve, who will graduate from the Teacher Education program with her Associate of Arts in Teaching degree this May, is the statewide recipient of the 2018 Ruth Brinkmann Award.

Recipients are selected from Missouri's 13 community colleges and must be preparing to transfer to a university to complete a degree in teacher education. The award criteria includes grade point average, an essay, and a letter of recommendation.

Jefferson College Teacher Education Professor Dr. Kenneth Boning nominated Glassey for her collaborative efforts and participation with numerous campus organizations and activities. She served as the co-president and treasurer of the Jefferson College Student-MNEA chapter, volunteered at the state and local levels with the Polar Plunge to support special education, and participated in a variety of voluntary community service roles.

Because of Brinkmann's contributions to community college teacher education in the state, the Missouri Association of Colleges for Teacher Education-Community College Division (MACTE-CCD) created the award in 2011. It is presented in her honor every other year, along with a $500 stipend, during the MACTE conference held in Columbia.

Additionally, Kira Baker, a Jefferson College Teacher Education alumna who now teaches Art at Crystal City Elementary, is one of the recipients of the Outstanding Beginning Teacher Awards (nominated by her four-year program at UMSL). During her first year at Crystal City, Baker implemented a K-8 collaborative art piece inspired by Kelsey Montague's #whatliftsyou campaign. The collaboration required each student to create a feather describing what lifted them, combining both art and character education collaborative pedagogy. Additionally, she has coached cross-country for the Crystal City School District, where two of the runners she has coached have qualified for state honors. During her time at UMSL, Kira actively participated in the UMSL pre-service chapter of the National Art Education Association, led the student art organization Artists Anonymous, and produced exemplary work in both studio art and education classes.

Substitute Teacher Seminar April 24 - Learn How to Obtain Substitute Certificate

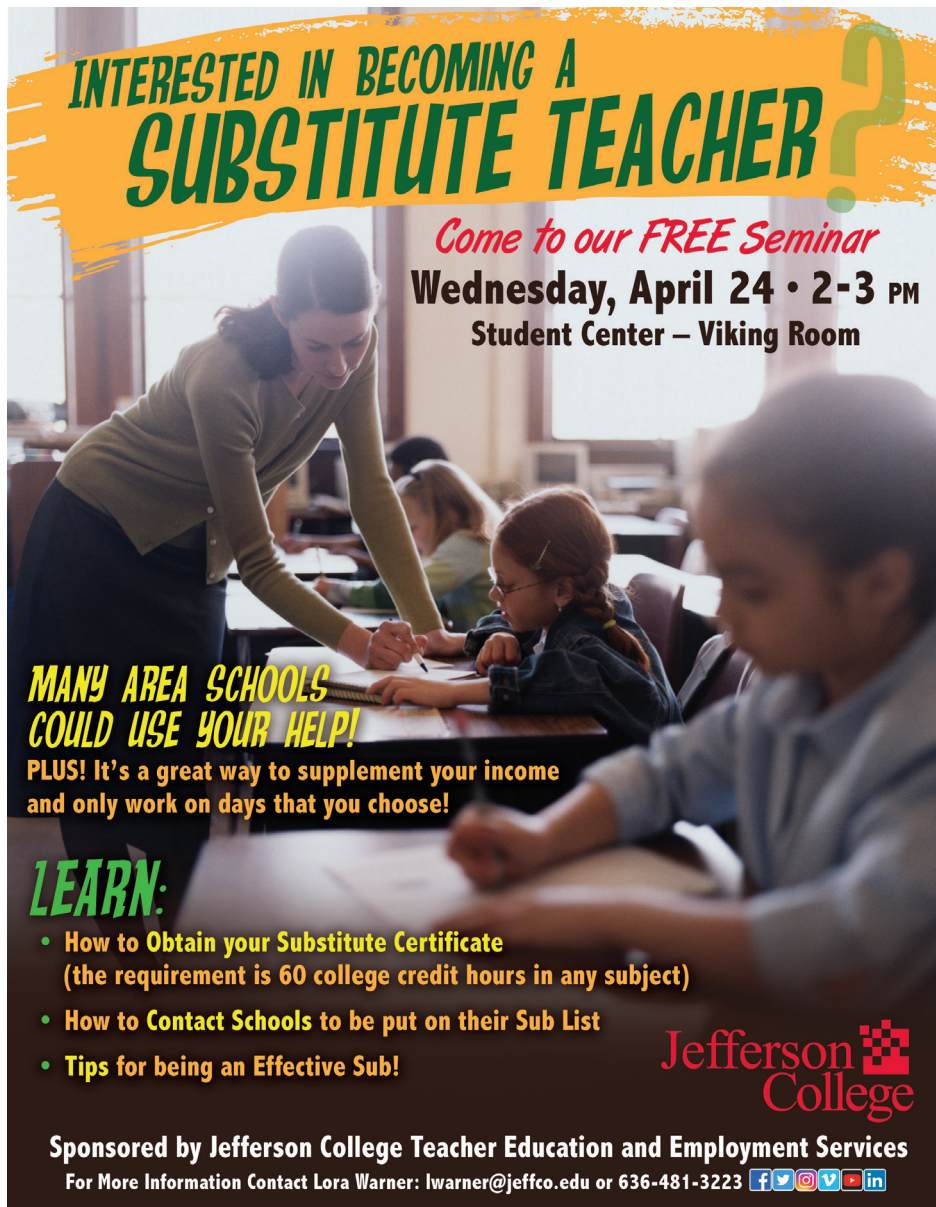

Those interested in becoming a substitute teacher are invited to attend a free seminar hosted by Jefferson College Employment Services and the Teacher Education program on Wednesday, April 24, from 2-3 p.m. in the Student Center Viking Room on the Hillsboro campus.

Seminar attendees will learn how to obtain a substitute certificate and how to contact schools to be placed on their substitute list, along with tips for being an effective substitute.

Many area schools are in need of substitutes teachers each day. Being a substitute teacher is a good way to supplement income and maintain a selective and flexible work schedule.

People become substitute teachers for a variety of reasons. If you are thinking about starting a teaching career, substituting can be a great way to find out if the profession is for you. If you enjoy working with children and are looking to supplement your income, substitute teaching can provide a flexible way to do so. Most importantly, substitute teachers have the chance to make an impact on young peoples' lives.

For more information about the Substitute Teacher seminar, contact Employment Services Specialist Lora Warner at (636) 481-3223 or email lwarner@jeffco.edu.
