"Student success has always been and will continue to be my top priority," said McCaffrey. "I appreciate the confidence the Board of Trustees has in my ability to effectively lead Jefferson College as its next president. I look forward to working with faculty, staff, and the community to ensure that we continue to live the College's mission by delivering quality learning opportunities that empower individuals to achieve their goals."

College's HVAC Program Achieves Excellence in Renewed National Accreditation

As an added measure of excellence in providing high-quality education, the College's HVAC (Heating, Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Technology) program was recently granted a six-year renewal of national accreditation through HVAC Excellence.

Programmatic accreditation is an independent third-party review of an educational program. The process validates that established standards of excellence for HVAC educational programs are met. These standards are designed to ensure that those entering the workforce receive the quality of training required to provide the skills necessary for success in the HVAC industry.

In order to pursue reaccreditation, HVAC Associate Professor William Kaune and staff at the College submitted a self-study filled with narratives and examples of how the program complies with each of the required standards. The self-study, once completed, was sent to the HVAC Excellence accreditation review board to thoroughly assess for compliance against each standard.

HVAC Excellence, having approved the self-study, sent a team of two members--one who has served as an HVAC instructor, the other as a school administrator--to conduct an intense, onsite review of the program. These onsite team members are seasoned professionals that possess the knowledge, training, and experience to evaluate every aspect of an HVAC program.

Upon a thorough review of all of the documentation presented by the College and the onsite accreditation team, the HVAC Excellence accreditation review board granted program reaccreditation.

Students graduating from Jefferson College with a certificate or Associate of Applied Science degree gain employment as HVAC installers, maintenance mechanics, or sheet metal workers. To learn more about the degree and training opportunities available in the Jefferson College HVAC Program, visit www.jeffco.edu/academics/programsdepartments.

College Library Receives Missouri Humanities Council Grant to Host Discussion by Pulitzer Prize Winning Author

In connection with the College's mission to serve our community by providing quality learning opportunities, the Jefferson College Library was recently awarded a $2,500 grant by the Missouri Humanities Council to host Pulitzer Prize winning author Caroline Fraser to discuss her award-winning book, Prairie Fires: The American Dreams of Laura Ingalls Wilder.

The Jefferson College Library and Jefferson County Library will host three appearances by Fraser this October in partnership with the Missouri Humanities Council and with support from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Millions of readers of Little House on the Prairie believe they know Laura Ingalls—the pioneer girl who survived blizzards and near-starvation on the Great Plains, and the woman who wrote the famous autobiographical books. However, the true story of her life has never been fully told. Drawing on unpublished manuscripts, letters, diaries, and land and financial records, Caroline Fraser fills in the gaps in Wilder's biography, setting the record straight regarding charges of ghostwriting that have swirled around the books and uncovering the grown-up story behind the most influential childhood epic of pioneer life.

The College will be sharing additional details about the free event as an extension of Jefferson College's longstanding commitment to cultural diversity, the arts, and humanities.

College Offers Free Adult Education and Literacy Classes to Prepare for High School Equivalency

Each year, Jefferson College serves more than 200 individuals as one of the state's top high school equivalency (HiSET) programs in an effort to promote workforce development and employment opportunities.

The Jefferson College Adult Education and Literacy program is a free resource to the community. Through the program, students are able to earn their HSE (formerly GED), prepare for college classes, transition into employment, and learn better English. There is no cost to participate as funds for the program are provided through the federal Adult Education Act.

Jefferson College offers Adult Education and Literacy/HSE classes during the day and evening at the main campus in Hillsboro (1000 Viking Drive), at Jefferson College Arnold (1687 Missouri State Road) and at the Jefferson County Library Northwest Branch in High Ridge (5680 State Road PP). When a person is ready to begin class, they meet with an instructor to design a personalized plan of study to help the student reach his/her goals. Individuals must also complete an orientation before beginning classes.

When an individual is ready to take the HiSET exam, assistance may also be available to cover the testing fee.

In addition to free HiSET preparation, the Jefferson College Adult Education and Literacy program also provides additional services at no cost:

English Language Learners (ELL): This free service provides instruction for English Language Learners and offers individual and small group instruction. Call for more information about the next scheduled ELL orientation.

Adult Literacy Program: This free service assists adults with fundamental reading skills and matches students with their own personal tutor for individualized instruction.

For more information about free Jefferson College Adult Education and Literacy classes, call (636) 481-3437, email JCAEL@jeffco.edu, or visit www.jeffco.edu/AEL.

Set in the legendary city during the roaring “jazz hot” 20s, Chicago tells the story of two rival vaudevillian murderesses locked up in Cook County Jail. Nightclub star Velma is serving time for killing her husband and sister after finding the two in bed together. Driven chorus girl Roxie has been tossed in the joint for bumping off the lover she’s been cheating on her husband with. Not one to rest on her laurels, Velma enlists the help of prison matron Mama Morton and lawyer Billy Flynn, who turn Velma’s incarceration into a murder-of-the-week media frenzy, thus preparing the world for a splashy showbiz comeback. But Roxie’s got some of her own tricks up her sleeve.

Communication and Theatre Professor Dr. Rebecca Ellison is directing the play. For more information, contact Ellison at rellison@jeffco.edu or (636) 481-3367. Performances will be held June 14-16 and 21-23.

The College offers several live dramatic productions each year, ranging from Shakespeare to murder mysteries to musicals. Students and community members are welcome to audition for plays based on details found in the audition announcements. Tickets on Sale for Jefferson College Foundation Jazz & Jeans Dinner, Music and Auction April 13

In order to raise funds to support student scholarships, emergency loans, textbooks, and quality programs at Jefferson College, the Jefferson College Foundation will present the Jazz & Jeans Dinner, Music and Auction on Saturday, April 13, in the Field House on the Hillsboro campus. This year's theme is "The Jewel of Jefferson County."

The fun, uplifting evening is being underwritten by Emerald Sponsor - Enterprise Bank and Trust, and Ruby Sponsors - Production Castings, Inc. and Mercy Hospital Jefferson. The celebrity master of ceremonies will be radio and TV personality J. C. Corcoran with special guest Bob Bennett, Artistic and Operations Director of Jazz St. Louis.

Jazz & Jeans tickets are available for $75 per person (tables of 10/$750) and must be purchased in advance at www.jeffco.edu/foundation. The reservation deadline is April 5.

Guests are invited to wear jeans and enjoy a relaxed evening. The event will begin with a social hour (open bar) and silent/mobile auction with a variety of items and themed baskets at 5:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7 p.m., musical entertainment by the Jefferson College Jazz Band and special guests, a Fund-a-Future presentation and testimonial by current students, and a special performance by local professionals and alumni.

Donations of gift certificates, sporting event tickets, getaway packages, dining out, entertainment, gift cards, etc. are gratefully accepted and can be used alone or grouped with other items to create themed baskets. If pickup or delivery of an auction item is needed, please call the Jefferson College Foundation at (636) 481-3105 to make arrangements.

The Jefferson College Foundation is a separately incorporated 501 (c) (3) nonprofit organization whose mission is to increase resources, to raise funds and to cultivate friends and partnerships to support Jefferson College and its mission.
